This Week's Terror Victims

- ❖ An Israeli farmer, 70 year old David Bar-Kapara, who was found badly beaten in a field in central Israel Wednesday afternoon, succumbed to his injuries hours later.
- ❖ An Israeli border policewoman was seriously wounded on Monday morning when she was stabbed by a Palestinian woman at Rachel's Crossing, the main transit point between Jerusalem and Bethlehem.
- ❖ One man remained in critical condition Tuesday morning and three more were in moderate condition, hours after a drive-by shooting by a Palestinian assailant near the West Bank settlement of Shvut Rachel, north of Ramallah.
- ❖ In a continuation of terror against Jews in Jerusalem's Ma'ale Hazeitim neighborhood, on Monday morning, Arab terrorists attacked young children, throwing heavy rocks at the bus in which they were traveling. There were no injuries, although the windshield was smashed.
- ❖ An Arab driver from a town in Jerusalem located on Mount Scopus, drove his truck into the back of an Israeli vehicle, seemingly intentionally pushing it off the road. Thankfully, there were no cars nearby in the next lane, allowing the driver to pull off safely on the side of the road.

From Bad to Worse!

- ❖ In a major setback to prevent Iran from obtaining nuclear capability, the US has agreed to drop its key demand to inspect Iran's nuclear sites. Israel's Prime Minister Netanyahu slammed the "potholes in the nuclear talks," emphasizing that this has now gone from a "bad deal" to a "worse deal."
- ❖ Iran is on its way to Geneva for the potential formal approval of ill fated deal.

ISIS in East Jerusalem

- ❖ Leaflets threatening Christians and signed by an organization referring to itself as the “Islamic State in Palestine” were distributed in East Jerusalem Thursday, Israel’s Channel 10 news reported.
- ❖ The flyers, which displayed an image of the black flag associated with the Islamic State terrorist group, warned Christian residents of the city that “vengeance” will be exacted upon them, the TV report stated.

Come Home!

- ❖ “To all the Jews of France I say: Come home!” Israeli Immigrant Absorption Minister Ze’ev Elkin said, amid news that a radical Islamic terrorist attacked a U.S. chemical firm in France, killing one. “Antisemitism is growing, terrorism is rising and according to reports ISIS is committing murder in broad daylight,” said Elkin.
- ❖ He said Israel was prepared to absorb French Jewish immigrant “with open arms,” adding that Israel was expecting a wave of immigration.
- ❖ According to Tablet magazine, French Jewish immigration to Israel was up 25 percent in 2015, compared to the same period in 2014.
- ❖ Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu had called on French Jews to immigrate to Israel after terrorists attacked a kosher supermarket in Paris this year, killing four hostages. Israel’s Law of Return allows Jews worldwide to obtain Israeli citizenship.
- ❖ French PM Valls says more terrorism in France is not a question of ‘if’ but ‘when’!

Anti-Semitism

- ❖ Neo-Nazis in England have announced plans to burn the Talmud and shred Israeli flags at their upcoming march through London's predominantly Jewish Golders Green neighborhood in July, The Jewish Chronicle reported Tuesday.
- ❖ Joshua Bonehill-Paine, a white supremacist activist, urged followers to participate in a private ceremony at Golders Green that would burn the Talmud "in recognition of its racist anti-white teachings."
- ❖ He said flags would be ripped, rather than burnt, at the protest, in order to avoid prosecution, and would mark solidarity "with those oppressed by the illegal state of Israel."
- ❖ "This will be a show of solidarity by English people who recognize that Israel is a corrupt state which is responsible for horrific war crimes," he said

Happy Ramadan!

- ❖ "The brutal murders in France, Tunisia and Kuwait again underscore that the enlightened world is struggling against dark forces," Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said Friday, after dozens of people were killed in three attacks that followed a call to violence by the Islamic State group. "The fight against the murderous terrorism of extremist Islam requires unity, the beginning of which is the unequivocal condemnation of the murderers and those who support them."
- ❖ In the deadliest of Friday's attacks, a young man pulled a Kalashnikov assault rifle from a beach umbrella and sprayed gunfire at European sunbathers at a Tunisian resort, killing at least 39 people.
- ❖ The shootings in the Tunisian resort of Sousse happened at about the same time as a bombing at a Shiite mosque in Kuwait and an attack on a U.S.-owned factory in France that included a beheading. It was unclear if the violence was linked but it came days after Islamic State urged its followers "to make Ramadan a month of calamities for the nonbelievers." In all, the assailants killed at least 65 people in Friday's attacks.

Palestinian Youth Soccer

During the month of Ramadan, Palestinian youth will be playing a football tournament in the Palestinian town Abu Dis, east of Jerusalem. Some of the participants will be playing on teams named after terrorists who have killed numerous Israeli civilians. This is Palestinian role modeling for kids.

The following teams are named after terrorists:

"The Martyr Abu Jihad team" (Abu Jihad responsible for deaths of 125)

"The Martyr Khaled Nazzal team" (Nazzal responsible for Ma'alot massacre, 22 schoolchildren and 5 adults killed)

"The Martyr Abu Ali Mustafa" (Ali Mustafa responsible for many terror attacks)

"The Mutaz Hijazi team" (Shot and attempted to murder Rabbi Glick in November 2014)

Bar Mitzvah with a Blink of an Eye

Jacob Trossman celebrated his bar mitzvah in Toronto last month together with his family and friends. In many ways, his was a typical Jewish coming of age ceremony. The bar mitzvah boy donned a tallit (prayer shawl) for the first time, prayers were uttered, and the Torah was read. However, there was one major way in which Jacob's transition to Jewish adulthood was unique. Unable to move or speak, Jacob recited the blessings for his first aliyah to the Torah by blinking.
