Rockets from Syria

- ❖ Four rockets were fired from Syria into northern Israel the IDF confirmed. Two of the projectiles landed in the Upper Galilee and two landed in the Golan Heights.
- ❖ A security source said that the Islamic Jihad organization with the financial backing and the direction of Iran was responsible for the rocket fire. "The IDF sees Syria responsible for the rocket fire and it will bear the consequences of the action," the source said.
- ❖ The landing of the rockets came after sirens were sounded in communities throughout the North. Fires broke out in the area as a result of the projectile fire. Northern District firefighters were on the scene in an attempt to put out the blazes.

And So it Begins ....

- ❖ The Israeli military said it carried out a new raid in Syria on Friday morning, targeting the cell that fired four rockets into northern Israel on Thursday. Syrian state television said six people were killed and seven wounded in the strike on a vehicle some 10 kilometers from the Syrian-Israeli border, in territory held by the Syrian army.
- ❖ "We were monitoring this cell and it was attacked some 10-15 kilometers from the border, on territory firmly in the control of the Syrian military. This is an Islamic Jihad cell directed by Iran," added the source.

Syria Response

- ❖ "The terrorists operating in Syria are a tool serving the Zionist enemy, and their actions are far more grave and dangerous than the criminal military attacks Israel conducts against Syria from time to time."
- ❖ The Syrian ruler said that after the rebel groups were defeated, Syria would "fight against Israel and respond to its criminal attacks."
- ❖ Late last week, the Israel Defense Forces struck more than a dozen Syrian military targets in response to rockets fired from Syria into northern Israel by the Iranian-backed Islamic Jihad terrorist group. The cell that fired the rockets was also targeted and eliminated by the IDF.

Iran's Stance on Israel

- ❖ Iranian President Hassan Rouhani commemorated the anniversary of a fire at the Al-Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem on Aug. 21, 1969, by accusing Israel of continuing to “murder and rape innocent women and children” and threatening Islamic holy sites, Iran's Mehr News Agency reported on Thursday.
- ❖ Rouhani's comments reflect the stated goals of the Islamic Revolution in Iran to destroy Israel and overthrow Israeli sovereignty in Jerusalem.
- ❖ Rouhani's statements came as Iran and world powers struck a deal over the country's nuclear program that would lift international sanctions and see foreign investment flood into Iran.

US to let Iran Inspect Sites

- ❖ VIENNA (AP) – Iran, in an unusual arrangement, will be allowed to use its own experts to inspect a site it allegedly used to develop nuclear arms under a secret agreement with the UN agency that normally carries out such work.
- ❖ The revelation is sure to stir up American and Israeli critics of the main Iran deal signed by the US, Iran and five world powers in July.
- ❖ Those critics have complained that the deal is built on trust of the Iranians, a claim the US has denied.

Temperatures in Iran

Extreme Heat in Iran last month felt like 163 Degrees Fahrenheit. Remember. the greatest danger to nuclear materials is extreme heat. That's why Nuclear power plants are located near water sources.
