PANDEMIC HYSTERIA

A former director of Israel's health ministry and member of Knesset said Monday the "monstrous hysteria" over the coronavirus pandemic is doing more damage to the country than the virus itself.

Prof. Yoram Lass of Tel Aviv University wrote, "The number of people likely to die as a result of quarantine, unemployment, poverty and loneliness will be infinitely greater than the number of deaths expected from the virus," the letter stated.

The professors said there is no data to support the claim that the coronavirus epidemic compares to the 20th-century Spanish influenza pandemic. Keeping healthy people at home who are not in high-risk groups was damaging the country, they stressed.

Elyani said he wasn't advising to remove the conditions totally, but to be smarter in battling the epidemic by concentrating on those who were more susceptible.

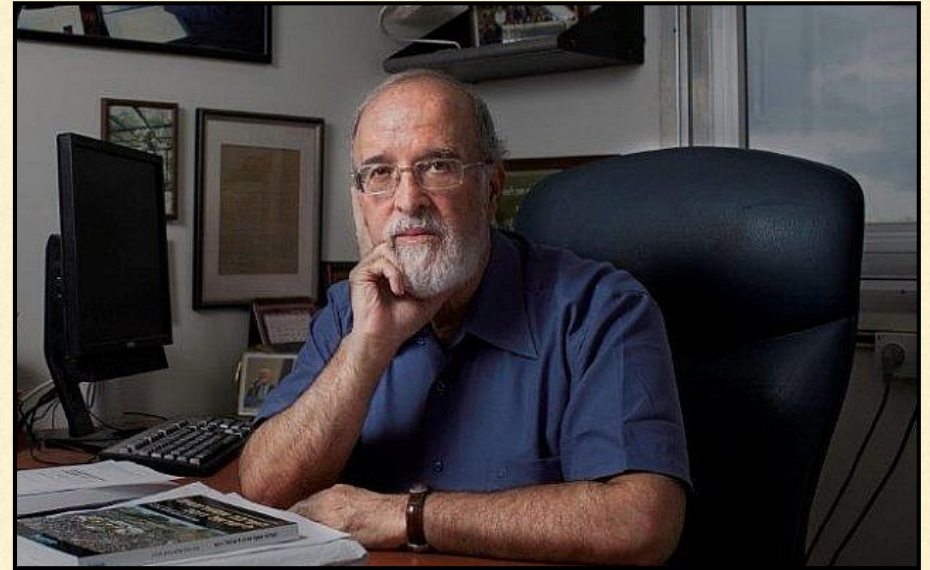

He recommended immediately reopening schools while keeping older staff at home because they are in a more susceptible age group.

WHAT IS TRUTH

A prominent Israeli mathematician, analyst and former general claims simple statistical analysis demonstrates that the spread of COVID-19 peaks after about 40 days and declines to almost zero after 70 days – no matter where it strikes, and no matter what measures governments impose to try to thwart it.

While he said he supports social distancing, the widespread shuttering of economies worldwide constitutes a demonstrable error in light of those statistics. In Israel's case, he noted, about 140 people normally die every day. To have shuttered much of the economy because of a virus that is killing one or two a day is a radical error that is unnecessarily costing Israel 20% of its GDP, he charged.

CHINA AND COVID-19

There is authoritative and compelling evidence – including a study from the University of Southampton – that if interventions in China had been conducted three weeks earlier, transmission of COVID-19 could have been reduced by 95 percent.

IRAN AND COVID-19

Could the virus from Wuhan accomplish in a matter of months what seven U.S. presidents, 19 CIA directors, and legions of Iranian secularists and dissidents could only dream about achieving in Tehran? The answer is maybe – the coronavirus may just deliver the coup de grace to the theocratic dictatorship that Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini started 41 years ago, but only if the devastation and feckless government response inspires everyone, from the lower classes to the ruling classes, to say "No more."

The growing COVID-19 death toll could provide the tipping point for the military to stop following Khamenei's orders.

PA LIBEL

The exploitation of the Corona pandemic by the Palestinian Authority to incite hatred of Israel, as documented by Palestinian Media Watch, continues unabated. This in spite of the ongoing daily aid and supplies Israel is giving to the PA to prevent an outbreak in the PA areas. Jerusalem warns Ramallah to immediately cease 'incitement' claim that Jewish state 'polluting' Palestinian towns, after 73% of cases there said linked to those who work in Israel.

The Hamas-run Health Ministry in the Gaza Strip has admitted that dozens of doctors from the Strip have been trained in recent weeks by Israeli doctors to deal with the Coronavirus (COVID-19) epidemic.

GOLAN – HEZBOLLAH

The Israel Defense Forces on Friday accused the Syrian army of helping the Hezbollah terror group establish a permanent military presence on the Golan Heights, releasing video footage showing a senior Syrian officer visiting the region.

“Even during the coronavirus period, the new commander of the Syrian army’s 1st Division, Lua’a Ali Ahmad Asa’ad, continues to help and allow the Hezbollah terror group establish a front on the Golan Heights,” the IDF said in a statement.

KINNERET IS NOW FULL

In order to prevent flooding, the authorities will likely use the Degania Dam to release excess water into the Jordan River should the Kinneret continue to rise. Built in 1931, the dam has only been opened twice in Israel's history - in 1969 and 1992, the last time the Kinneret was full.
